Brief description

adamus group GmbH is producing a one-way disposable urinal („adamus“). The product is meant to substitute sanitary devices in any occasion where necessary. Upon usage, 750ml of fluid are absorbed by the product and turned into a gel. Within some minutes, the product is leak proof and can be disposed easily in the next household waste. The mobile urinal is a hygienic and water-free solution.

Weighing no more than 26 gram at a size of just 13*10*0,8 cm and characterized by an intelligent folding mechanism, adamus fits every pocket and offers relief anywhere and anytime. It serves especially handicapped (wheel-chair driving) people, people suffering from urological diseases but improves as much the overall hygienic situation for any healthy person with a pure natural need, occuring several times a day.

The product is available for men and women.
